SWOT Analysis Summary:

As a team, we have learned a lot about our strengths in maintaining strong attendance and effective communication. We recognize the need for better documentation alongside other improvements like making sure we constantly challenge ourselves to take our programs to the next level. There are exciting opportunities ahead for learning JavaScript, HTML, and CSS, while also practicing design thinking. However, we are mindful of potential threats such as competition and time management. Overall, we are committed to continuous improvement and collaboration to overcome challenges and achieve our goals together.
